

ORDINANCE 118557

3 AN ORDINANCE relating to additional regular property taxes for families and education; providing for 4 the submission to the qualified electors of the City at a special election on September 16, 1997,
5 of a proposition authorizing the City to levy regular property taxes for up to seven (7) years in 6 excess of the limitation on levies in RCW 84.55.010 for the purpose of providing Seattle School
7 District public school students, Seattle youth, and their families with educational and 8 developmental services such as early childhood development, school-based student/family 9 services, comprehensive student health services, out-of-school youth activities, and academic 10 improvement activities; authorizing the creation of a new subfund; continuing an oversight
11 committee; and authorizing implementing agreements.

8 BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY OF SEATTLE AS FOLLOWS:

9 Section 1. Findings. The City Council makes the following findings:

10 a. Providing the educational and developmental services authorized by Section 5 of this 11 ordinance is a City purpose as well as an educational purpose;

12 b. The activities to be funded are supplemental to the basic education financed by the 13 State of Washington and will not displace or reduce state funding for the public schools in the Seattle
14 School District;

15 c. In 1990, the voters of Seattle approved a measure that provided $69.2 million over 16 seven years to finance programming of educational and developmental services to Seattle's children,
17 youth, and families. These programs have proven successful at providing child care and out of school
18 activities for over 30,000 children and youth, providing parent education and support services to at least 19 50,000 families, providing academic support and intervention to over 70,000 students, and other critical
20 services aimed at keeping Seattle's children and youth safe, healthy, and ready to learn.

1 d. An urgent need exists to continue the provision of the educational and developmental 2 services to be financed with proceeds of additional regular property taxes, and its urgency requires
3 submission to the qualified electors of The City of Seattle of a proposition authorizing regular property
4 tax levies in excess of the levy limitation in RCW 84.55.010, as it now exists or may hereafter be
5 amended, (commonly referred to as the 106% limit) for this sole purpose for up to seven (7) years at a 6 special election to be held in conjunction with the state general election on September 16, 1997.

7 Section 2. Definitions. As used in this ordinance, the following words when capitalized have the 8 following meanings:

9 a. "City" means The City of Seattle.

10 b. "Educational and Developmental Services" means the array of programs and activities
11 referred to in Section 5, with such modifications as the City Council may from time to time authorize.

12 c. "Proceeds" means the additional regular property taxes levied and collected for the 13 purposes and under the conditions provided in this ordinance, as authorized by the electorate pursuant to 14 this ordinance and state law, and all interest and other earnings thereon that are deposited in the 1997
15 Families and Education Subfund of the Educational and Developmental Services Fund.

16 d. "Seattle School District" and "School District" mean Seattle School District No. 1.

17 Section 3. Levy of Additional Regular Property Taxes - Submittal. The City hereby submits to 18 the qualified electors of the City a proposition as authorized by RCW 84.55.050 to exceed the levy
19 limitation on regular property taxes contained in RCW 84.55.010 for property taxes levied in 1997
20 through 2003 for collection in 1998 through 2004, respectively, for the sole purpose of raising Sixty-
21 Nine Million Dollars ($69,000,000) in aggregate over a period of up to seven (7) years, to provide 22 Educational and Developmental Services for Seattle School District students, Seattle youth, and their

1 families. The proposition shall be limited so that the City shall not levy in any year more than Fifteen
2 Million Dollars ($15,000,000) in addition to the maximum amount of regular property taxes it could
3 have levied consistent with chapter 84.55 RCW in the absence of this ordinance. Pursuant to RCW
4 84.55.050(4), the maximum regular property taxes that may be levied in 2004 for collection in 2005 and 5 in later years shall be computed as if property taxes had not been increased under this ordinance.

6 Section 4. Application of Proceeds. The proceeds of the additional taxes authorized under this
7 ordinance shall be deposited in the City Treasury into a special 1997 Families and Education Subfund
8 (the "Subfund") within the previously established Educational and Developmental Services Fund.
9 Moneys in the Subfund may be temporarily deposited or invested in such manner as may be lawful for 10 the investment of City money and interest and other earnings shall be deposited in the Subfund. The 11 principal Proceeds and any interest or other earnings from their deposit or investment shall be applied
12 solely for Educational and Developmental Services.

13 Section 5. Educational and Developmental Services. Educational and Developmental Services
14 funded by Proceeds are services designed to help address the needs of Seattle's public school children
15 and Seattle's youth, with the intent of promoting learning, improving educational outcomes, and 16 ensuring accessibility to services, and the administration of those services. Initially, Educational and 17 Developmental Services shall be provided through a program with the following five (5) service
18 components funded directly by Proceeds. Estimated 1998 allocations for these service components are:

- 19 1. Early childhood development (major program
20 elements include child care subsidies and quality
21 enhancement, community-based Family Support
22 Centers and parent education classes to ensure 23 children are ready to transition to school and families
24 have access to needed support). $1,456,761
2. School-based student/family services (major program

1 elements include elementary school Family Support
2 Workers, counseling services for homeless children,
3 parent involvement coordination, and support
4 services targeted to middle school students in order to support families' involvement in their children's education and help students overcome issues that interfere with learning). $2,230,683

5 3. Student health services (major program elements
6 include enhanced health education and teen health
7 centers in middle and high schools to improve
8 students' health and promote healthy lifestyles). $2,370,000

9 4. Out-of-School activities (major program elements
10 include before and after school care for elementary
11 age children and community and school-based 12 programs for youth ages 11 - 18, in order to provide 13 supervised and high quality activities for youth when 14 not in school). $2,415,497

15 5. Academic improvement activities (major program
16 elements include the provision of resources and 17 technical assistance to schools that require additional 18 help in meeting student needs and improving
19 academic performance). $ 500,000

20 These 1998 service component descriptions and component allocations are only illustrative
21 examples. In the annual City budget or by separate ordinance, the City shall from year-to-year determine 22 the budget and allocations among the five (5) service components, add or delete service components or 23 program elements within a service component, change the scope of activities or the emphasis, and,
24 within a budget year in consultation with the Oversight Committee, reallocate unexpended and unencumbered funds from one program element or service component to another. Funds and appropriations unexpended at the end of any budget year shall automatically be carried over to the next budget year.

1 Expenditures from the Subfund for central administrative support of these programs by the City
2 and the School District shall not in any budget year exceed a total of five percent (5%) of that year's 3 total expenditure authority from the Subfund.

4 Section 6. Oversight Committee. The Oversight Committee established pursuant to Ordinance
5 115289, as modified by Ordinance 116430, shall continue in operation to review the expenditure of 6 Proceeds; to advise upon expenditures and allocations for the following year, and to make
7 recommendations on the implementation of particular programs and on any reallocations. The Oversight
8 Committee shall consist of seven (7) members: the Mayor, the Chair of the City Council's Health,
9 Housing, Human Services, Education and Libraries Committee or its successor with respect to education
10 issues, a representative of the Seattle School Board, the Superintendent of the Seattle School District,
11 and three (3) Seattle citizens who shall be appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the City Council.
12 Appointed members shall serve for a period of three (3) years, commencing at the respective dates of 13 their appointments, subject to reappointment; appointed members shall be discharged from further 14 service by two (2) consecutive unexcused absences, by moving their residence from Seattle, and for 15 other cause. Members shall serve without pay, but may be reimbursed their expenses, including 16 payments for child care while attending meetings. The Oversight Committee may adopt rules for its 17 own procedures, including the frequency of meetings. The Director of Housing and Human Services
18 shall provide staff and logistical support for the Oversight Committee.

19 Section 7. Implementing Agreements. If the levy of additional taxes is authorized by the voters,
20 the City may carry out the Educational and Developmental Services by agreements with the Seattle
21 School District, with the Seattle-King County Health Department, and with such other agencies and 22 persons as may be appropriate. The Mayor or the Mayor's designee is authorized to enter into such 23

1 agreements. Agreements with other public entities shall contain either the then current equal
2 employment opportunity/non-discrimination provisions, women's and minority business opportunity
3 provisions, and disability accommodations requirements of the City or of the contracting public entity;
4 all other agreements shall contain the City's then current requirements thereon.

5 Section 8. Election - Ballot Title. The King County Director of Records and Elections, as ex
6 officio supervisor of elections, is hereby requested to find the existence of an emergency, for the reasons
7 stated in Subsection 1(d) of this ordinance, to assume jurisdiction of and to call and conduct a special
8 election in conjunction with the state general election on September 16, 1997, and to submit to the 9 qualified electors of the City the proposition set forth below.

10 The City Clerk is hereby authorized and directed not less than forty-five (45) days prior to 11 September 16, 1997, to certify the proposition to the King County Director of Records and Elections in 12 the following form:

13 THE CITY OF SEATTLE
14 PROPOSITION NUMBER 1
15 (FAMILIES AND EDUCATION)

16 To provide educational and developmental services for Seattle School District students, Seattle
17 youth, and their families, shall Seattle lift the limit contained in Chapter 84.55 RCW on regular property
18 taxes in order to collect Sixty-Nine Million Dollars ($69,000,000) in up to seven (7) years, no more than 19 Fifteen Million Dollars ($15,000,000) in any one year, setting maximum regular property taxes for 1998
20 collection at $3.78 per $1,000 of assessed value, pursuant to Ordinance 118557 ?

21 Levy, Yes _____

22 Levy, No _____

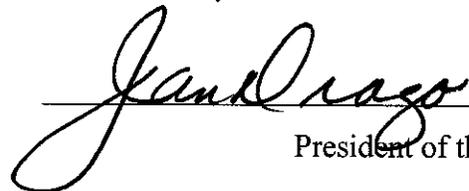

1 Those in favor shall vote "Yes"; those opposed shall mark their ballots "No".

2 Section 9. Ratification. Certification of such proposition by the City Clerk to the King County
3 Director of Records and Elections in accordance with law prior to the date of such election on September
4 16, 1997, and any other act consistent with the authority and prior to the effective date of this ordinance,
5 are hereby ratified and confirmed.

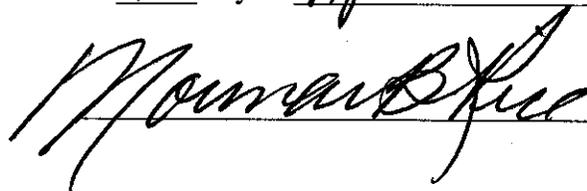

6 Section 10. Severability. In the event any one or more of the provisions of this ordinance shall 7 for any reason be held to be invalid, such invalidity shall not affect any other provision of this ordinance
8 or the levy of the additional taxes authorized herein, but this ordinance and the levy of those taxes shall 9 be construed and enforced as if such invalid provisions had not been contained herein; and any provision 10 which shall for any reason be held by reason of its extent to be invalid shall be deemed to be in effect to 11 the extent permitted by law.

12 Section 11. Effective Date. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force thirty (30) days from 13 and after its approval by the Mayor, but if not approved and returned by the Mayor within ten (10) days
14 after presentation, it shall take effect as provided by Municipal Code Section 1.04.020.

MEMORANDUM

Re: Mayor's Proposal to Renew the Families and Education Levy

Overview

The purpose of this memorandum and the attached ordinance is to transmit, for Council consideration, the Mayor's proposal for renewing the Families and Education Levy (F&E Levy). This proposal seeks to submit to Seattle voters a ballot measure on September 16, 1997, that if passed will provide $69 million over seven years to assist Seattle Public School students and their families through a variety of initiatives. The following sections will provide you with a review of the background of the current Levy, the focus and programmatic elements of the new Levy, and the fiscal impact of the new Levy.

Background: Current (1990) F&E Levy

Following a citywide educational summit and broad-based planning effort in 1990, Seattle voters approved the F&E Levy, providing $69.2 million over the seven year period from 1991 to 1997. The focus of the Levy strives to make children safe, healthy, and ready to learn. The 1997 Adopted Budget for levy programs totals about $12.2 million.

Program Areas: The 1990 Levy provides funding for four major service areas.

Early Childhood Development (24% of Levy funds): This component of the levy focuses on the healthy development of children from infancy to age five, to help ensure that preschool children and their parents are ready and able to make a successful transition to school.

School Based Student/Family Services (22%): This component focuses on building strong intervention teams at elementary and middle schools to assist students and families in overcoming barriers to learning.

Comprehensive Student Health Services (31%): This component focuses on improving and expanding student health services at every grade through support from the Seattle-King County Health Department as well as through improved linkages with community providers.

Out of School Activities (19%): This component focuses on providing safe, healthy options for youth before and after school and during summer vacation.

Redirect Schools: The 1990 F&E Levy assumed funding for several District programs that would have been funded by the District if not for Levy resources. This allowed the District to "redirect" those funds (approximately $3 million) to education enhancements in an attempt to improve academic achievement. The District identified 23 "redirect" elementary schools which have added staff and increased staff training in order to mainstream special needs students into regular classrooms. The academic performance of these schools has been mixed, with some showing significant gains, and others showing no change or a decreased level of achievement.

Administration: In 1991, the City created the Office for Education in the Department of Housing and Human Services (DHHS). The Office for Education is charged with overall administration of the Levy funds, including planning, implementing, and reviewing Levy programs. This office also is the primary liaison between the District and the City. No more than five percent of total Levy funds can be used for program administration. Currently, four percent of Levy funds are used for administration.

Oversight and Planning: The Levy Oversight Committee (LOC) is responsible for overseeing both the direct Levy programs and the redirect schools' enhancement. The LOC is comprised of the Mayor, the Superintendent, a City Councilmember, a School Board member, and three citizens appointed by the Mayor and Council. Levy planning is done primarily through an interdepartmental team consisting of representatives of the three levy departments -- DHHS, Parks, Health -- as well as representatives from the Office of Management and Planning, Council staff, and the Office for Education.

Size, Length, and Type of the Proposed New F&E Levy

The new Levy is proposed to be a seven year (1998-2004) special levy (lid lift) that will collect a total of $69 million over its life. A "lid lift" levies regular property tax that is counted within the $3.60 per $1,000 of assessed value limit and requires a simple majority vote for passage with no turnout requirements.

Focus of the Proposed New F&E Levy

The Families and Education Levy renewal proposal is built on what we've learned from the current Levy and is designed to complement a new, more focused direction in the Seattle Public Schools. The current Levy funds many projects and programs in schools and community based organizations. The new proposal is somewhat more streamlined in an attempt to focus resources on a smaller list of priorities. In addition, in order to keep the Levy cost down to its proposed $69 million, annual expenditures have been cut back by $3 million in order to start the new Levy at 1991 levels.

A significant change in the new Levy is the proposal to end the above mentioned "redirect project" in 23 elementary schools. Instead of the redirect project, the new Levy would fund two new initiatives: 1) help implement a restructuring and strengthening of middle schools; and 2) a new effort to continually focus attention and resources on the 10-20 schools with the weakest student outcomes. Both of these efforts are very important pieces to the overall improvement of Seattle Public Schools.

City Councilmembers

March 4, 1997

In addition, the new Levy will continue funding several of the successful programs that receive funding from the current Levy, such as child care, family support workers, and family centers. The new Levy will also significantly expand after-school programs for both elementary and middle school students, as well as teen health centers.

Please refer to the attached executive summary for additional information on the proposed programmatic elements of the new Levy.

Tax Impact of the Proposed New F&E Levy

The average cost of this new Levy to a taxpayer with a home valued at $150,000 in 1997 (and inflated annually by 3-4%) would be about $34 annually over the seven year period, for a total of $241.

MAYOR'S PROPOSED 1997 FAMILIES AND EDUCATION LEVY

Executive Summary

- MISSION: To help families and schools address the needs of Seattle's children, foster learning and improve the educational outcomes of Seattle Public School students.
- GOALS: Make children safe, healthy and ready to learn.
Increase student safety before, during and after school.
Strengthen the ability of parents to support, nurture and guide their children.
Enhance the ability of schools to meet student needs.
Build stronger partnerships among schools, parents and communities.
- AMOUNT: $69 million over seven years from 1998 to 2004
- TIMING: September 16, 1997 ballot

MAJOR COMPONENTS

- 1. Early Childhood Development: The focus of this component is on the healthy development of children aged 0-5 and ensuring that families and children are ready to make a successful transition to kindergarten. Proposed programming includes continuing the City's child care program, which provides 650 children with quality child care as well as technical assistance and training to 150 child care providers. The levy funds 25% of the children in the child care program. The goals are: to provide culturally relevant care that is safe and effective so parents can work or get job training; and to give children the skills they need to successfully transition to kindergarten. In addition, partial funding for the community based Family Centers would be continued. These Centers provide a variety of offerings for parents and families, including classes on specific parenting topics and activities for children and youth.
Suggested first year funding: $1,456,761
- 2. School-Based Student/Family Services: The focus of this component is on building strong teams at elementary and middle schools to assist students and families with problems that interfere with learning. Proposed programming includes continuing the family support worker program, the volunteer coordination project and counseling for homeless students. New programming is proposed in middle schools, which will provide support to students and improve academic performance and school retention.
Suggested first year funding: $2,230,683

3. Comprehensive Health Services: The focus of this component is on improving health care access to middle and high school students and expanding health education. Proposed programming adds two high school teen health centers operated by the Seattle-King County Health Department and community providers and adds up to five student support centers in middle schools. The middle school centers will provide counseling and student support groups as well as basic health services.

Suggested first year funding: $2,370,000

4. Out of School Activities: The focus of this component is on safe, supervised, healthy options for youth, grades K-12, during after school hours and summer vacation. Proposed programming continues the array of before and after school programs for elementary students and a network of school and community based activities for middle school and older youth. Funds for school based after school activities for middle school students are expanded and the case management component of the Seattle Team for Youth violence prevention project is continued. Seattle Team for Youth activities focus on youth who are in the juvenile justice system, or who are at risk of being in the system.

Suggested first year funding: $2,415,497

5. Academic Improvement: The focus of this component is on improving student outcomes (test scores, grades, percent of students working at grade level, retention rates) at the 10-20 Seattle Public Schools which most need extra assistance to be successful with students. The new programming would fund school-based strategies that fit into the specific improvement plan for each school.

Suggested first year funding: $500,000

Levy Administration: An Oversight Committee, including the Mayor and representatives from the City Council, School District and community shall review performance annually, make budget and program recommendations and issue reports on the effectiveness of the Levy programs. Overall administration of Levy funds will be the responsibility of the City of Seattle. Specific programs within the service components will be operated by the School District, community based organizations, the City or other service delivery agencies as appropriate. No more than 5 percent of total Levy funds budgeted in any given year shall be used for program administrative support by the City and/or School District.

Suggested first year funding: $477,420

Program Evaluation: A program evaluation schedule will be developed by the Levy Oversight Committee.

Suggested first year funding: $100,000

GRAND TOTAL Suggested First Year Funding: $9,550,361
